

Region-focused Training Course on Vegetable Production Technology for Livelihood Improvement of Small Scale Farmers 2016 completed

Region-focused Training Course on Vegetable Production Technology for Livelihood Improvement of Small Scale Farmers 2017 was conducted from February 2017 at Tsukuba International Center, JICA (TBIC) and the closing ceremony was held on November 2. 10 participants from 6 countries completed the nine-month training course.

They gained knowledge of and learned about vegetable production technologies, marketing methods, and agricultural extension know-how for livelihood improvement of small scale farmers.

We wish participants all every success in their duties after returning home and believe our friendship will not perish.

Seeding cabbage

Transplanting tomato in a green house

Grafting watermelon

Diagnosis of soil cross section in a field

Growth survey of cabbage

Soil analysis in the laboratory

Training watermelon

Making Kuntan

Harvest survey of carrot

Harvest survey of sweet potato